

Charles Cameron

Chief Executive Officer

RCSA (Recruitment, Consulting and Staffing Association of Australia & New Zealand)

Charles Cameron is a workforce management expert and leader with over 25 years' experience advising on workforce management and compliance with a particular focus on new and emerging forms of work.

With tertiary qualifications in economics and labour law, combined with extensive experience working within the private sector across Australia and New Zealand, as a consultant and executive, Charles is passionate about the establishment and promotion of workplace laws and relationships which balance fairness for workers, and work-seekers, with sustainable economic growth, founded upon productivity.

Charles resides in Melbourne, Australia and is the Chief Executive Officer of RCSA Australia & New Zealand, the national federation for the recruitment, staffing and workforce solutions industry.